

Research Technician at Translational Imaging Biomarkers Lab

The successful candidate should be proactive, diligent, responsible, and detail-oriented, and will provide support for various research projects, including the study of neuroinflammation, neurodegeneration, and hypoxia in mouse models of Parkinson's disease. Duties will include animal handling and experimental procedures, sample collection, brain tissue processing, histological and immunohistochemical analyses, and other related laboratory techniques.

The position is for two years, under an M1-category employment contract, in accordance with the salary scales established by the Spanish National Research Council (CSIC).

Interested applicants should send their application by email to:
hsigurdsson@umh.es
with the subject line "Research Technician Application – [Name]"

Applicants must hold the required qualifications for Functions B and C in animal experimentation in Spain and have demonstrable experience in mouse handling and histology and immunohistochemistry techniques.

Institute for Neurosciences CSIC-UMH (Alicante, Spain).

Application Deadline: November 8th , 2026